

Bridges Prep News & Notes: May 24, 2019

From Dr. Sherri Herbst's desk ...

As we enter the final weeks of school, please remind your children of these important points:

1. The different tests that they'll be taking DO make a difference, and they should always try their best. Sometimes the test affects their graduation; sometimes it affects their placement in future classes; sometimes it simply reflects better on the school and potentially helps us earn rewards
2. We will continue to enforce the uniform and dress code policy
3. We expect good behavior every day. Springtime typically is when students are feeling a bit wilder, knowing summer is just around the corner. Please remind your children that we won't tolerate misbehavior or breaking school rules.

The Aquarium! Our second graders toured the SC Aquarium in Charleston this week and learned about our coastal environment – and had a blast!

Construction update: Our students, staff and parents at drop-off and pick-up have been very good in dealing with our Port Royal construction – thank you! As any of you who visit the campus know, we've seen some great progress.

It's a special thrill for our Upper School students to be able to watch their new school rise from what started as a bare, grassy field.

Please continue to use caution when driving onto the campus.

The staff and the Board continue to work toward submitting a second loan request to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Rural Development fund. That money, if approved, will help us plan and build the elementary class wing to our Port Royal Campus. Stay tuned on that issue!

Memorial Day holiday! Just a reminder that this Monday, May 27, is a holiday and school will be closed. Enjoy a long weekend with your family and we'll see you Tuesday.